GLENDAL, CAL., SEPTEMBER 15, 1911

We are in receipt of a copy of the Van Nuys Call, published at Van Nuys, printed in Los Angeles. It starts out with a good show of advertising patronage and will no doubt be a success financially in the near future.

The minister of the Gospel who encourage women to stand around the church door on Sunday and "do politics," has mistaken his calling. He should take to journalism or some other wicked profession.

A man up in the mountains of San Bernardino fasted fifty days and lived to eat watermelon on the fifty-first.
Will Doctor Tanner please take a back seat.

Before deciding that nothing less than a section of Owens river water will satisfy our longing for moisture, would it not be a good idea to give the home product a chance?

Owing to the great demand upon our advertising space last week a number of interesting local items had to be left out. A continuance of this liberal patronage will result in the NEWS being enlarged to eight pages.
Our business men have been getting such satisfactory results from advertising in our columns that this increase of demands upon our space is quite natural. The NEWS has the largest circulation of any paper published in the valley and is the only paper in Tropic or Glendale that is printed at home.

The law in regard to registration of voters requires that registration cease thirty days before the election takes place. In the present campaign on the amendments which are to be voted on October 10th, the last day for registration according to the calendar would have been Sept. 10th. On the assumption, however, that both Saturday and Sunday were holidays, the time was extended so as to permit of registration on Monday, 29 days before election. But another innovation has been admitted; on both the holidays above named, registration has been permitted, something unprecedented in the state. It looks very much to the unprejudiced observer as if this is something like tampering with the law. But as the probabilities point to the adoption of the recall, this of course is immaterial. With the recall in the hands of the voters, male and female, no judge who valued his office (and many of them do) would care to render an opinion contrary to the wishes of an apparent majority of the voters.

CONSERVATION.

Conservation of the natural resources of the country is an excellent thing, a necessary thing, but how much more important is the conservation of the resources of the individual human being, the citizen upon whom the republic rests? In a fine large and general way we all believe in diminishing waste on the part of the nation, but how many are bringing the application of the idea down to a practical working basis for the individual?

"Reform" is in the air, and it is not a far-fetched thought to question whether the popularity of it as a business at the present time is not robbing it of much of its virtue. Always there have been as there will be always, a great many people who devote their time and their talent to preaching reform for things at a distance, overlooking the real need of their immediate environment, their families and themselves. Is their number not increasing out of proportion to the good accomplished?

It is not the preacher alone who is given to preaching over the heads of his congregation.

LOST OR MISLAID.

What has become of "Miss Abbott" who leaped into sudden notoriety by her story of finding a letter in the files of the interior department which reflected upon the President of the United States? The letter has not been found nor any evidence corroborating the young female person's story. Is she still in the muck-raking business, busily engaged in the manufacture of "incriminating facts?"

Is it not a singular thing and a thing reflecting upon the decency of our human nature, that so many people of fair intelligence will accept as truth any improbable and impossible story, when it seems to serve their purpose in making a point against some one of the higher-ups in politics or religion? The Abbott story is a fair sample. Here was an alleged letter said to contain incriminating evidence against the President of the United States and one of his cabinet officers —a letter addressed to the latter and supposed to have been placed by him in the files of the department for any curious newsgatherer to examine at will!

Does the law of probabilities favor the truth of such a story? And the incriminating part is alleged to have been in a postscript which could easily have been detached from the remainder of the letter! It is one of the in-scrutable acts of the Almighty that he endowed so many people with good impulses and left them short on the elementary ideas of justice and common sense.

THE RECALL OF JUDGES.

The popular demand for the power of the recall, on the part of the voters, as applied to the judiciary, appears to us to rest upon a false premise, frequently expressed as follows:
"If the voters elect a man to office why should they not recall him if he does not suit them?" This may seem to be an unanswerable argument to the person whose idea of the judiciary places its members in the same general class as the coroner or the constables. But they do not belong to this class of elective officials; the judges of our courts are in a class by themselves; they are chosen (or should be) not only because of their supposed probity, intelligence and judicial temperament, but primarily because of their special knowledge of the law, a knowledge not possessed by the people at large. This fact in itself should indicate the impossibility of the people applying the recall with any measure of justice when the question involved is one of law and not of fact, as are, usually the cases in which the public is most vitally interested. But surpassing even this sufficient reason why the judges should be exempt from the application of the recall is another reason that goes to the root of the matter. The judge is an arbitrator, an umpire. His office was born of the necessities of the people. Absolute justice among men is an impossibility. The thing for which men are willing to fight and die in this generation because they think it is right, may be proved to be absolutely wrong by the generation now coming on the scene of action; and so it has always been necessary that the disputes between men should be submitted to an arbitrator, whose decision shall be accepted as final by both parties to the controversy. In the practice of our courts this decision may be appealed to a higher court but until that appeal is heard, the decision must stand and both parties submit to it. This is an absolute necessity for the peace of society. But note the workings of the new principle of the recall as applied to our judges. In the first place it is practically submitting our case to an arbitrator whose decision we shall accept only as we like it! We will select an umpire to choose between us in our controversies, but in the event of his deciding against us, we will rally our cohorts, overthrow him and fill his place with another! And what will the effect of this be? Plainly and inevitably to create a contempt for law, to lead the people to accept no court decision as final, but to trust to themselves to decide intricate matters whereas heretofore they have chosen specially fitted representatives to do it for them, with a willingness to abide by their decision as long as it could not be proved that the decision was influenced by corrupt means.

In the latter event the people have by means of impeachment proceedings, the necessary machinery for redress. And here is another vital difference between the means now available to get rid of a corrupt judge and that of the recall. To impeach a judge it is necessary that a body of selected men decide the matter on the testimony of witnesses sworn to tell the truth. In recall proceedings the jury is a promiscuous body of men with no special judicial fitness or responsibility and the testimony is furnished in the most cases by the newspapers current at the time! The recall as proposed in the amendment to be put before the people on Oct. 10th, might as applied to other officials be no worse than an interesting experiment, but when applied to the judiciary is sufficient to condemn the whole proposition.

HOME IMPROVEMENT.

The enterprising citizens of Azusa are agitating the question, How to improve the appearance of the town. A committee appointed to look into the subject recommends the giving of prizes to home owners for the improvement of the appearance of their homes. The first prize of $100 to be given the person making the greatest improvement on his grounds within a specified time. Other prizes to be given for the best lawn; the most artistic arrangement of permanent yard decorations; best selection and arrangement of flowers; best rose garden, etc. The plan is one that promises great results and the result will be watched with interest and should the recommendation of the committee be adopted.

A MISLEADING STATEMENT.

Mr. George W. E. Griffith has issued a statement to voters residing in the territory which it is proposed to annex to Los Angeles on the 22nd inst which is misleading to say the least. It is of interest to this section as quite a number of people in Tropic and West Glendale are expressing themselves as desirous of being similarly assimilated into our overgrown neighbor, Los Angeles. Mrs. Griffith presents five "arguments" for the purpose of showing that the outsiders will save money by annexation. He asserts, first, "We would escape all special school taxes, as the city would assume and pay all district school bonds and school expenses." This sounds well, but the gentleman fails to state that the annexed district will also have to pay its proportion of the aggregate of the expenses incurred for schools in the city of Los Angeles. Conveniently leaving out this last consideration he arrives at the conclusion that the person owning property assessed at $1000 would save $10 a year on this item alone! In the second place he states that the insurance rate is 70 cents for 3 years within the city, while outside it is $1.00 (here it is 80 cents).
He does not seem to know that the mere fact of annexation to Los Angeles will not reduce the insurance rate; the insurance companies will take cognizance of local conditions after annexation just as they do at present.
He says that the same property owner will save $1.50 a year on insurance.
The third point he makes is that telephone rates will be lower to the extent of fifty cents a month. As to this it is open to serious doubt, in Wilmington and San Pedro, annexed to Los Angeles a year and a half ago, the telephone rates have been increased.
The fourth point is in regard to electric lights. Mr. Griffith says that the rate is seven cents in the city as against nine cents outside; possibly that argument will stand. The fifth point is the most misleading, and that is in regard to water. He says:

"The minimum water rate in the city is 75 cents, and outside of the city it is $1.50 per month, saving of $9 per year and possibly much more to those who use a good deal of water."

The lately annexed territory in Los Angeles does not get a 75-cent water rate, because not reached by the municipal water system. Referring to Wilmington again, that city is paying more for water than it did before annexation. The private companies now supplying territory adjacent to Los Angeles cannot be put out of business because of the mere fact of annexation. In the course of time it is probable that the city may take over such plants by purchase or by condemnation, but until that time comes, it is even doubtful whether the municipality can force those companies to lower rates; an effort to do so in several cases has had the contrary effect.

Similar figures and similarly misleading are given in the Tropic Sentinel of last week, attempting to show that annexation to Los Angeles would save money to Tropic residents. To reach this conclusion the monthly charge for water within the limits of Los Angeles is placed at 75 cents, in comparison with the rate of $1.50 now charged in Tropic. It is not explained how the mere fact of annexation will bring this reduction about.
Will the property of the Consolidated Water company be turned over to Los Angeles just because of a vote in favor of annexation? Hardly. Will the municipal water system of Los Angeles by some magic process be immediately extended to Tropic so that the monthly charge in the newly annexed territory may be reduced to the "75-cent minimum"? And again, hardly.
In this connection we will answer the Sentinel's inquiry as to what we meant by our advice to "ask Wilmington." Residents of that city are paying a higher water rate now than before they were annexed to Los Angeles.
They endeavored to get Los Angeles to lower the rate according to pre-election promises, and the result was a raise, the private concern supplying the water showing that their former rate was not high enough to provide a sufficient profit on the investment.
Tropic is situated similarly to Wilmington in this respect; it is dependent for its water supply on a private

WEST GLENDALE

Mrs. Leroy K. Daniels and mother, Mrs. B. A. Holmes of Los Angeles, were in Glendale Friday, as guests of Mrs. J. L. Russ, Burchette street.

A very artistic bungalow of five or six rooms is being erected on West Fourth street between Pacific and Columbia by a Los Angeles party who will occupy the same.

The ice cream social held at the West Glendale M. E. church, Monday evening, was well attended and a very neat little sum realized. A short program was rendered and all those present voted it a success.

Little Miss Editha Atkinson entertained a few of her friends with a party at her home on Milford street.
Games of all kinds were in order throughout the afternoon with a generous supply of goodies to delight the little folks, and a genuine good time for all.

There was a continual stream of little folks entering the "Bungalow Grocery" on Friday last to take advantage of the offer of free ice cream and candy given with every purchase. The store is enjoying a very good trade and it is quite an accommodation to those in this part of town.

The many friends of Miss Clara Story will be glad to know that the young lady is fast regaining her health and is enjoying such a delightful time with friends at Catalina, that upon her return will spend some time at her summer home in Ocean Park where she and her mother, Mrs. Warren Story, will merely rest up.

The little two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Miller of West Sixth street, who has been critically ill for some time with bronchial pneumonia and whooping cough, is greatly improved.
Dr. E. H. Thompson who attended the little one gave very little hope for him, but with careful attention and nursing the little fellow is all right.

The following is a list of the teachers for West Glendale school: principal, Mrs. Cora S. Taylor; Mrs. Rendall, Mrs. Fanny Stone, Miss Sadie Yarnell, Miss Hulda Erickson, Miss Lorraine Mitchell, Miss McPeak and Miss Maybelle Douglas, of Los Angeles, but who is coming to Glendale and make her home among us. Owing to such an increase in the work at the high school this year, it is not definitely known whether Mrs. Dora Gibson will be able to favor the school as musical instructor, this term, but we sincerely hope that she may continue in her duties the same as before.

The West Glendale school opens Monday, Sept. 25.

The attention of the patrons of the West Glendale school is respectfully called to section 1617 of the school law of California relative to the admission of beginners to the first year.
The law reads: "Children shall be admitted to the beginning classes of any school only during the first month of the school year . . . and children who will be six years of age before the end of the sixth month of the school year . . . shall be admitted at the beginning of the school year and children who will not be six years of age by the end of the period specified shall not be admitted until the beginning of another school year."

The sixth month of the school year will presumably close on March 25.
By heeding this law now, much disappointment may be avoided.

CHAPTER XXIII.

A SHARP wall, as of an animal in sudden torture, burst from the lips of Henry Breed. He started forward, shaking and trembling, the veins on his forehead old face starting out like whipcords. He raised both his clenched fists and opened his mouth to speak, but no words came.

Speech was supplied on the instant, however, by Sumner Rollins. "By heaven, no!" he cried. "I knew that you contemplated some folly, Kelvin, but never that you had in your crazed mind a crime so great as this or I should either have impeached you as a traitor or had you imprisoned as a lunatic. Hear me, you men! Let no word of this proclamation get beyond this room as you value your lives."

"Arrest that man!" shouted Kelvin. "Arrest me if you dare!" cried Rollins. "I am going from this room a free man, and I will show you that patriotism and the love of liberty in the United States are neither dead nor asleep. In every village and upon every farm there still dwells the immortal spirit of our forefathers. Kelvin, I am going out of here to face you with an army which can defeat any politically made army in the world, an army fighting for the sacred and undefeatable causes of home and country and freedom. I shall issue such a call that every uninvited descendant of every true American will swing into line to sweep this colossal folly back into the fourteenth century, where it belongs, and to make a by-word and a laughingstock of the name of Philip Kelvin—emperor!"

The guards who had advanced toward Rollins had hesitated upon his outburst, and in that moment of his righteous fury, standing stern and stalwart with his eyes flashing, he was commanding enough to have halted any underling. Now, however, the guards looked to Kelvin, and he struck his knuckles impatiently upon the table. Elsie White upon Kelvin's plunge into his proclamation had stepped back to the door, where she now stood directly back of Rollins. As the latter spoke she had put her hands behind her and quietly turned the key. Now she plucked Rollins by the sleeve.

"Harry! Go!" she whispered. She pulled open the door and thrust Rollins through it before he had more than half comprehended her intention; then she slammed it shut, turned the key in the lock and slipped the key into the neck of her gown just as the guards and Sam threw themselves upon the door.

"Miss White, I will give you thirty seconds in which to produce that key," came the cold voice of Kelvin.

She looked back at him steadily, but made no move. Kelvin drew his watch from his pocket. A tense silence settled in the room. Finally he slipped his timepiece back into his pocket.

"Will you give it up?" he demanded. Now his voice was trembling.

She shook her head.

"Sam, take it."

The blood that had left Elsie's face suddenly surged up crimson as Sam approached her, but except to clasp her hands over her breast she did not move, nor did she take her eyes from Kelvin. He himself turned, half nauseated, but the word of an emperor was out. She shuddered as Sam put his enormous hands upon her, but she defended the key as best she could with her puny strength. There was a brief struggle, then Sam sprang from Elsie and inserted the key in the lock, though Rollins by that time was in his automobile and speeding away toward the Maryland line.

Elsie staggered back a pace against the wall for support, still with those large eyes fixed upon Kelvin. Across the width of the room he gazed into them and saw die there every last lingering trace, from every corner of her heart, of the love and affection that had for many years been a part of its fiber. She sank fainting to the floor. Two or three ran to revive her, but Lillian was not among them.

In the midst of that confusion Henry Breed found his voice. "You shan't have it!" he cried. "You shan't have my money. I'll resist to the last ditch. You can't get into the vault. I'll hire a million assassins to kill you. I—I was to be emperor! I was to be emperor!" His face was scarlet, and there were flecks of foam upon his lips.

His granddaughter put her hand upon his shoulder. "Never mind, grandfather," she said contemptuously. "Remember that it's all in the family." She glided up to the desk before Philip. "My emperor, I salute you," she said, smiling up at him, and from his desk she picked up the dagger. "Here it is, your tallman that twice threatened your life. Do you remember how once, holding its point up like this, you declared that in this sign you would conquer? It represented then, as it does now, the tips of ten thousand glittering sword points, of a million glittering bayonets. I believed in you then, as I do now, and declared that I, too, would reign. In this sign we conquer!" and with a hysterical laugh she raised the dagger aloft.

Kelvin looked down upon her in sudden fury. He had not forgiven her for enticing him to the forgetfulness of his great principle that to acquire success he must have no entanglements with women; he had not forgiven her his entrapment into a marriage avowal; he had not forgiven her the death of that love which he had seen die out of Elsie White's eyes.

"For some time to come," said he with quiet suppression, "I expect to reign alone."

"Then, your majesty," she said to him mockingly, "I have only to ask you that you guarantee me safe exit from the palace."

His face flushed at this first trace of ridicule to be heaped upon his pretensions to royalty, but his voice was grave and even enough as he strove to establish dignity. "You have my word for that," said he.

"Then," she cried as she sprang back from his desk toward the door that was still open, "I shall keep this little souvenir until I have a chance to present it to you again," and she thrust the dagger into her belt. "Do you know what I am going to do? I am about to turn revolutionist; I am about to become the Jeanne d'Arc of America; I am about to join George Blagg's army and finance it and lead it!" And with a shrill laugh she swept out of the door.

There was a moment of paralyzed silence, and then through the corridor they heard her voice, loud and clear and wild, singing the "Marseillaise." She swept out through the entrance and down between the ranks of those bronzed mountaineer soldiers. Marching with martial tread, she sang the song of blood clear through their ranks. The news of its singing flashed along wires and across pulsating, electrified spaces. In every city in the United States that mighty, rousing song was caught up, and the land vibrated with one accord to its rhythm and grew wild with its frenzy. In one day America had an emperor, and its national song had become the "Marseillaise."

"I AM ABOUT TO TURN REVOLUTIONIST."

At midnight Philip I, sat in the observation tower he had caused to be built upon the roof of the White House, watching, waiting. Even the sudden harsh clatter of a bell within the apartment did not disturb him from his statue-like rigidity. Sam rose and picked up the telephone from a little table in the corner.

"It's General Rensselaer, sub," he said. "He wants to see you all on very 'pawtinent business."

"Tell them to let him come up," directed Kelvin without turning his head. He had accomplished in succession all his specious aims until now. From ocean to ocean for seven days there had existed a state of tense, taut strain. What violence, what carnage, what hideous saturnalia of bloodshed might break forth at any moment no one knew, but in the meantime he, Philip Kelvin, who but a few brief years before had possessed not a dollar and scarce a friend, was still emperor of America! Emperor—Philip I. What vast conquests might yet lie before him!

His preparations for handling this present situation were excellently laid. In or near every center of population were massed well drilled soldiers able to combat and to quell any insurrection. There might be a revolt more or less systematized, but it could do very little against the systematic resistance that Kelvin had devised. He had planned wisely for a reorganization of social conditions, and when the country was once more reorganized upon a self sustaining basis, where every man had an equal chance for sustenance and moderate accumulation, the larger dreams might materialize, the real victories might begin.

The conquest and annexation of Canada and Mexico would come next and coextensive with this the building up of the largest navy in the world. Europe, that vast tissue of states bound by a flimsy filament called "the balance of power," could be disintegrated by a single shot, thrown into a turmoil of cross purposes that would render its individual masses easy prey. With each new victory would come more strength, and his imperial progress might sweep on and on until the entire world, from pole to pole, and from ocean to ocean, might be bound together under his resistless sway, linked in a brotherhood of universal peace and prosperity and equality, with himself as the benign dictator!

Crisply up the steps came Herbert Rensselaer.

AMENDMENT NUMBER EIGHT

Both Sides Presented

LEADING MEN AN AID TO EQUAL SUFFRAGE.

John H. Braly of Pasadena, founder and president emeritus of the Southern California Political Equality League, who turned over the management of that organization to women last January, has again come to the aid of the cause by organizing a men's organization, to be composed of men who do not wish to lead, but only to help the women who have so bravely and loyally made this fight. We shall take up active precinct work, discussing our plans with the central committee.

Senator Bell, Dr. John R. Haynes, Lee C. Gates, Senator Leslie R. Hewitt, Mayor Alexander and other prominent politicians and business men are said to be in the organization.

Mayor Alexander in a letter to Mrs. Clara Shortridge Foltz under date of August 18 replying to a query in regard to his attitude upon suffrage, said: "I believe every citizen, man or woman, should take an active part in the affairs of the city, county, state and nation. Our women are as intelligent as our men; they have as much or more time to study the governmental problems of the day; they are as much, if not more, interested in right doing, and they should have the right to vote. The elective franchise carries with it a duty as well as a right, and both men and women should be compelled to attend to that duty."

Secretary of State Frank C. Jordan in a letter to her also, said, "I am in favor of permitting women to vote. I have always believed they should. I believe they can decide as intelligently as men and that their influence will be excellent for all that makes for good government and the proper conduct of public affairs. I believe that the wives and mothers of the state, those who have the most to do in molding the character, caring for, educating and fitting our boys and girls to cope with the responsibilities of life, will not fall at the ballot box to join with the best men of the state in accomplishing much for the good of society and the state. Know this, if at any time I can assist, all you have to do is to call on me."

W. H. Beatty of San Francisco, chief justice of California, is a supporter of woman suffrage because, as he admits, he has to be. Replying to a letter from Mrs. Foltz, he writes, "My Dear Mrs. Foltz: I am under orders to vote for the suffrage amendment, and I mean to obey. But if I were acting on my own responsibility I should be troubled with some misgivings. As it is, I shall have a little better defense in case of disaster resulting from the extension of the franchise than Adam had in the first case reported. I shall not have to rely on the poor plea, 'The woman tempted me.' I can say, 'My wife ordered me, and I had to obey.'"

John H. Hollister, assessor of San Luis Obispo county, believes in woman's enfranchisement and his reasons are, he says, "Out of an assessed valuation of $13,000,000, women own 60 per cent of the property. Yet, although they pay taxes, they have no elective franchise. Why? President Taft has said he is ready to accord women suffrage when all women want it. His nephew, Fred H. Taft, of the Los Angeles law firm of Tanner, Taft & O'Dell, does not believe in waiting, but has adopted the business slogan, 'Do it now.' He argued before the Political Equality League Saturday that it was not so much a privilege or a right which demands women's enfranchisement as the call of duty and responsibility. If women's enfranchisement does not come now, it will be postponed for a few years, he believes, and California men by a great majority, should give women equal right with themselves on October 10."

Mrs. Hattie E. Gaylord, President.

Strong Anti Argument by George S. Patton

In the September issue of the West Coast Magazine is an article by Hon. George S. Patton of Los Angeles entitled "Why Women Should Not Be Given the Vote." It is one of the most complete and convincing arguments on that question that has been presented to the voters. In no way is it a denial of woman's equality with man, but it certainly goes far to prove that she is not fitted by nature nor required by expediency to perform the same duties.

Mr. Patton makes very clear the contention of those opposed to the movement that it is illogical for woman to have a part in the making of laws which she has not the physical power to enforce. That no need exists in California for woman's being given the right of suffrage in order to protect herself is demonstrated by citations from the laws of the state showing that in many instances she is favored more than man. Statistics are quoted showing that in the state of Washington only 20 per cent of the women entitled to vote performed the duty.

It is shown that in Denver and Salt Lake City, the chief cities of two of the voting states, crime has increased since women became qualified voters and the conditions of women have been in no respect improved. Mr. Patton quotes the following testimony from a reputable witness who speaks from the knowledge gained by years of experience.

Mrs. Francis W. Goddard, president of the Colonial Dames of Colorado, had this to say last December:

"I have voted since 1893. I have been a delegate to the city and state conventions and a member of the Republican state committee from my county. I have been a deputy sheriff and a watcher at the polls. For twenty-three years I have been in the midst of the woman suffrage movement in Colorado. For years I have lived in woman suffrage and have worked day in and day out for it. I now see my mistake and would abolish it tomorrow if I could. No law has been put on the statute books of Colorado for the benefit of women and children that has been put there by women. The child labor law went through independently of women's vote. The hours of working women have not been shortened; the wages of school teachers have not been raised; the type of men that got into office has not improved a bit. Frankly, the experiment is a failure. It has done Colorado no good. It has done women no good. The best thing for both would be if tomorrow the ballot for women could be abolished."

A day or two ago the newspapers reported the organization of a woman's league in Colorado, headed by the wife of the chief justice of the state, to work for the repeal of the law permitting women to vote.

In view of all these objections, theoretical and practical, I say with deep earnestness that the men of California whose votes will determine the question on October 10th have never had presented to them a political question fraught with potency of evil to the cause of good government, of government by responsible voters, of acting wise and enforceable laws. No possible harm can result from the maintenance of the status quo—in this respect—and the further states in which the unwise experiment is now in progress. The dictates of simple prudence should impel the thoughtful men of the state to smother under an overwhelming adverse verdict the attempt of a handful of mistaken enthusiasts to place upon the unwilling shoulders of our good women a responsibility and a burden which are constitutionally unable to assume.

Mr. Barry discovered that in Denver the rate of juvenile crime was abnormally high, and the chief of police of Denver told him it was increasing alarmingly. In juvenile delinquency he also found that Colorado has one of the highest rates in the country. The highest rate among the white population of any city in this country. It is possible that the abolition of the power, that practical ownership of the home, may affect these questions. It is sometimes claimed by suffragists that women in the suffrage states enjoy an equivalent for power. But there is no equivalent. A home is generally the first and only property acquired by a man. Few unmarried men own houses. Under the present dispensation, the women of the country, in effect, own it. Except in the suffrage states, there is practically no conveyance of real estate in the United States, without the consent of some woman.

"On moral questions the laws of Colorado are famous for their weakness or absence. The liquor laws of Colorado are not up to the standard of other states. No search or seizure law is in effect in the state, and without such a law the illicit sale of liquor cannot be suppressed. The women of Colorado are on trial in regard to the suffrage movement. Their failure to benefit Colorado by their suffrage is doing more to retard woman suffrage in other states and nations than anything else. If Colorado, as a result of woman suffrage had laws above the average, especially on moral questions and where the rights of women are affected, if it was a state that could be pointed to with pride in regard to its laws and their enforcement, if the city of Denver as a result of their ballot could be changed from the worst city, morally, in the land, to one of even average decency, then the suffragists could give a reason for asking for the franchise in other states."

NOTICE OF AWARD OF CONTRACT.

Pursuant to Statute and to the Resolution of Award of the Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale, California, adopted the 11th day of September, 1911, directing this notice, notice is hereby given that the said Board of Trustees, in open session, on the 5th day of September, 1911, opened, examined and publicly declared all sealed proposals offered for the following work, to-wit:

First: That all that portion of the roadway of First Street from the East line of Brand Boulevard to a point 160 feet East from the East line of Jackson Street, including all intersections of streets and alleys, be graded and oiled in accordance with the plans and profile on file in the office of the City Engineer, and Specifications for the grading and oiling of streets on file in the office of the City Clerk of the City of Glendale, said Specifications being numbered 10, excepting, however, that all oil applied as called for under afore-described Specifications No. 10 shall be applied by a machine which must be of such construction that the oil will be spread uniformly over the surface of the road in any quantity per application from one-eighth (1/8) of a gallon per square yard to one (1) gallon per square yard. The oil must be spread or forced upon the surface of the road in such a manner as to immediately cover every particle of surface when applying a quantity of oil as small as one-eighth (1/8) of a gallon per square yard. The oil above the nozzles must be maintained at a uniform pressure during the application of the entire tank of oil, and such pressure shall not be less than thirty (30) pounds per square inch. The machine shall be provided with a transverse distributing cylinder of such length that it will spread oil over a width of road of eight (8) feet in each course, in order to prevent overlapping or necessity for "bucketing" or patching with oil as is required with rollers of less width.

Second: That a cement curb be constructed along the lines of the roadway of said First Street from the East line of Brand Boulevard to a point 150 feet East from the East line of Jackson Street (excepting along such portions of the lines of said roadway upon which a cement curb has already been constructed on the official line and grade), in accordance with the Specifications for the construction of cement curbs on file in the office of the City Clerk of the City of Glendale, said Specifications being numbered 2. Said curbs shall be curved on the specified radius to meet the curb lines of all intersecting streets as tangents.

SEC. 2.—That the Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale, finds upon estimates directed to be furnished and furnished by the City Engineer that the total cost of said improvement will be greater than fifty cents per front foot along each line of said street, including the cost of intersections, and it is hereby determined, in pursuance of an Act of the Legislature of the State of California, approved February 27, 1893, as amended by an act of the Legislature of the State of California amending said last named Act, which amending act became a law March 2, 1899, that bonds shall be issued to represent the cost of said improvements. Said bonds shall be serial, extending over a period of ten years, and an even proportion of the principal sum of such bonds shall be payable annually, by coupon, on the second day of January of each year after their date, until the whole are paid, and said bonds shall bear interest at the rate of seven (7) per cent, per annum on all sums unpaid, payable semi-annually, by coupon, on the second day of January and July of each year.

Pull or Push?

Is there any such thing as pull? Does the horse pull the cart, or does he simply push on his collar and so draw it along? Would you pull a weight that was fastened to your coat-tails, or in that case would you simply be pushing against your clothes? Do our political officeholders always get their jobs through their own push, or is it usually a matter of pull? This is an interesting problem. Think it over.—New York Globe.

TROPICO

Rev. Henry Goodsell and daughter, Miss Julia, are again at their home on Palmer avenue.

The Tropico Bank last Tuesday completed its first business year, which has been one of remarkable success.

Mr. M. M. Weeks of Los Angeles is erecting a pretty bungalow on Garden avenue. The Riley Brothers are contractors.

Mr. and Mrs. Spence and family of Palmer avenue, will leave Tropico soon for Los Angeles, where they will make their future home.

Miss Emma Casler of Gardena, passed the early part of the week with Rev. and Mrs. W. C. Botkin at their home on Central avenue.

The former residence of the Richardson family at the west end of Central avenue has been sold by Mrs. Richardson to Louis Capdeville.

After passing several weeks with her children, Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Wolfe of Pomona, Mrs. Belinda Riley has returned to her home on Cypress street.

A. L. Chandler, who has been touring in the eastern states for the past several months, is expected to arrive at his home at this place within a few days. He is now in Nebraska.

Mr. Seamore of Palmer is contemplating starting a feed and seed store in one of the rooms of the new block which is now being erected on the San Fernando road by Peter Gabatz.

C. E. Eichbaum of Park avenue has accepted a position as superintendent of the mills of the Consolidated Lumber Company at San Diego. He and his family will move to the harbor city.

Piano Lessons

It will be of interest to the residents of Glendale and vicinity to learn that Clarence E. Krinbill, formerly of Chicago, a piano teacher of successful experience, has moved to this city and opened a studio at his residence, 1810 West Second Street, between Central and Orange.

Mr. Krinbill will receive piano pupils of all grades, including beginners; himself a pupil of the eminent Emil Liebling. Experience and training enable him to establish results.

Mr. Krinbill will be pleased to meet those contemplating study.

Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Imier and Miss Marjorie Imier and Master Eugene Imier are passing some time at the home of the Imiers, "Palm Villa," on Park avenue. They will return to the Imperial country later.

Mr. and Mrs. Burns have vacated the home of Miss Mattie Minton on Palmer avenue, and are now erecting a beautiful home in North Glendale near the foothills, which they will occupy when completed.

Mr. and Mrs. Jay Rice have returned to their home in Porterville, after passing a vacation of several weeks with Mr. Rice's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Rice, corner Central avenue and Cypress street.

A party of Tropico people who have just returned from a vacation trip to the beach includes Mr. and Mrs. W. Morgan, Mrs. W. E. Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. W. Rhodes and Mrs. M. Overton. They report a delightful visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph S. Robinson have been entertaining at their home on Blanchette avenue, for the past few days. Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Van Delinder of Ventura, Cal. It is very probable that Mr. and Mrs. Van Delinder will make their future home here, and they are much taken with this place.

Joseph and Willie Marple left Tropico on the 10:30 o'clock car Monday evening, with Hoesage's Camp, on the east side of Mt. Wilson. In view, they left on the 11:00 car from Los Angeles, and started up the trail shortly after midnight. Reaching the camp, they rolled up in their blankets under the trees until morning, when they secured a tent for a stay of several days.

The Knights of Pythias lodge of this place is certainly growing at a remarkable rate. At a recent meeting of the order the following new members were received: E. H. Weston, Harry Marple, James R. Riley, G. S. Peck, Henry G. Pettit, Bert F. Cunningham, Dr. Samuel Pollock and Dan Elmhurst. The meetings of this order take place every Monday evening in Logan's hall on San Fernando road.

To the Editor of the Glendale NEWS: Dear Sir: The Tropico Mercantile Company wishes to express through the columns of your paper their appreciation to the merchants who contributed prizes for the baking contest. To the ladies who acted as judges, and those who took part in the contest, both the winners and those who did not, and trust it may have proved beneficial to all of us.

TROPICO MERCANTILE CO.

The San Fernando road, which was completed quite a while ago under the good roads system, is rapidly wearing out. Some places between Tropico and Bond Station, and also in the West Glendale section, deep ruts have been worn. Guess the repair man will have to be coming around this way pretty soon. The recently completed Central avenue is also on the downward path. The good roads contractors certainly did a good job—for themselves.

MARRIED.

At noon on Wednesday at the residence of the bride's mother, Mrs. Susie Miller to Mr. George Peck, ceremony performed by Rev. C. E. Norton.

TROPICO METHODIST ITEMS.

The Women's Foreign Missionary society of this church will meet at the home of Mrs. Hutt on Blanchette avenue next Tuesday afternoon.

At the close of the prayer meeting next Wednesday the adjourned session of the fourth quarterly conference will be held in the church.

Next Sunday morning the pastor will deliver his usual morning discourse. In the evening there will be some more surprises in the way of stereopticon pictures, and the subject for the evening sermon will be "The Man With a Backbone."

TROPICO GRAMMAR SCHOOL.

Everything is in readiness for the opening of the Tropico grammar school next Monday morning. Quite a number of improvements have been made to the school during the past vacation. A roof garden on the north side of the building on the second floor has been converted into a modern sewing room with many unusual features. This room will have large glass windows all along the north side of the room with a skylight. There has also been installed a modern kitchen which is thoroughly modern. Another class room has been fitted up, making in all eight class rooms. This room has been established at the east end of the assembly hall.

Mrs. McClure, principal of the school, wished to improve upon the parents of the small children expecting to enter the school this year that all children five and a half years and under must enter the school during the first month of study or they will not be allowed to enter during the present year. This year a great deal depends upon the daily attendance of the school, as the money for school purposes depends entirely upon the daily attendance.

The lists of teachers for the coming year will be as follows: Mrs. Martha McClure, principal; Miss Helen Hughes, Miss Freda Northick, Miss Gertrude Bond, Miss Iva Hunter, Miss Bertha Hopkins, Miss Lita B. Hibben and Miss May Cornwell.

TROPICO MERCANTILE COMPANY'S BAKING CONTEST

Came to a close last Saturday. In all forty-nine cakes were received, also biscuits, rolls, pie crusts and raisin loaves were entered. Fourteen prizes were offered. Great credit is due the firm for the manner in which the contest was conducted.

The prizes were awarded as follows: First prize for best cake consisted of $15 worth of photographic work, donated by Weston's Studio, and one first prize contest medal—Miss Daphna Story.

Second prize was for second best cake, and consisted of a 6x9 Smith's tapestry rug, donated by Frank B. McKenny & Son, hardware and furniture merchants, Tropico, and a second prize contest medal—awarded Miss Mildred Prescott.

Eighth prize for cake, $3.85 worth of groceries, was awarded Mrs. Frank Ashton, Jr.

Ninth prize for cake, $3.50 worth of groceries, was awarded Mrs. M. Van Hazelen.

Tenth prize, $4.30 worth of groceries, was for the best loaf of raisin bread, and was awarded Mrs. M. Van Hazelen.

Eleventh prize, $2.55 worth of groceries, for the best six biscuits, was given Mrs. M. M. Cole.

Twelfth prize, $2.35 worth of groceries, was for best pie crust, and was given Mrs. S. E. Brown.

Thirteenth prize was for best cake made by young lady under twenty-one. Prize consisted of ticket value twenty cents in trade each day for thirty days at Charles Story's Pharmacy, and was awarded Miss Daphna Story.

Fourteenth prize, $5 selection from dry goods side of Tropico Mercantile Company, for youngest boy or girl who enters the contest, was awarded Miss Gladys Martin, age five years.

In order that the judging might be fair in every way, the names of the contestants were removed from all articles entered, and cakes were all numbered and judged strictly on merits and not on looks. Each cake was cut and sampled by three qualified judges of the vicinity. The ladies who kindly consented to act as judges were Mrs. W. H. Bullis, Mrs. H. L. Moody and Mrs. Haver. Mr. W. H. Ford of the N. K. Fairbank Company, sole makers of Cotelene, conducted the contest.
